

Patricia Darrall

ASEA Board Member

Pat Darrall began her real estate career over 30 years ago in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She obtained her real estate sales license and later, her real estate broker's license.

Shortly thereafter, the escrow and title business beckoned and she applied her real estate knowledge to the position of Escrow Assistant and very soon, Escrow Officer. She practiced in this arena for many years in New Mexico, California and finally Arizona, completing a myriad of vacant land, residential and commercial transactions. Her experience includes hands on searching and examining, processing and closing escrow, writing commitments, recording documents and writing policies.

Pat was one of the initial members of the New Mexico Escrow Association. She is currently in the Escrow Administration Department at Chicago Title, Phoenix, Arizona focusing primarily on auditing and compliance.
