

Christin Dockery

ASEA Vice President

Christin Dockery has been in the title and escrow industry for 7 years having started her career as a receptionist with a division of First American Title in 2003. She is currently employed by First American Title as an Escrow Officer, in Scottsdale, AZ.

Having discovered the Arizona State Escrow Association by accident while searching for escrow education classes on the internet, she's been a member off and on since that time and is very excited to be serving on the Board of Directors this year. While she does not currently hold any professional designations; she is currently preparing to take the Certified Escrow Officer exam in October of 2010.

Christin has been married for 7 years and have two wonderful sons. When she's not working she enjoys reading, camping, bowling, and most of all, laughing with her beautiful family and amazing friends.
